"SUBMERGED APPROACH FOR PERI-IMPLANTITIS INTRAOSSEOUS DEFECTS REGENERATION"

Presented by Drs. Hom-Lay Wang and Fernando Suárez

Tuesday, September 22nd | Workshop Session
9:30am – 16:30pm

Peri-implantitis is one of the most challenging complications in the realm of implant dentistry. This hands-on exercise is designed to train participants in the newly developed "EP-DDS submerged approach" for regenerating bone in peri-implant intraosseous defects. This exercise will help participants become familiar with the approach and its technique.

Learning Objectives:

- Know how to perform EP-DDS protocol for regenerating peri-implant defects
- Learn how to perform implantoplasty and guided bone regeneration
- Familiarize yourself with tools for disinfecting contaminated implant surfaces
